DETAILED ACTION

Note: This is in response to the amendment filed 07/20/2009.

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the “right to exclude” granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 1-7, 13, 15, and 26-28 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-5 of U.S.

Patent No. 6,733,513. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the relatively broad subject matter claimed in the instant application such as a balloon consisting essentially of at least one metal and further, the method of vacuum depositing metal film onto the cylindrical mandrel to form the balloon which would have been obvious in view of the relatively detailed subject matter of the patent claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1, 2, 4, 5, 7, 13, 15, 26-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Beyar et al. (U.S. 6127597).

Note in figure 6 of Beyar et al., a catheter member (88); a metal balloon (82); and wherein the metal balloon (82) can be shape memory metal.

5. Claims 1, 2, 4, 5, 7, 13, 15, 26-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kaneko et al. (U.S. 5344400).

Note in figures 1 and 2 of Kaneko et al., a catheter body (2) fabricated from a material selected from the group consisting of polymers and metals and an inflatable balloon (3) consists of at least one alloy layer; wherein the balloon (3) having a wall thickness between about 5um and 50um and including the steps of vacuum depositing of the at least one metal onto the generally cylindrical mandrel to form the inflatable balloon and removing the mandrel from the inflatable balloon.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

1. Claims 1-7, 13, 15, and 26-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Macoviak et al. (US 6585689).

Macoviak et al. discloses the claimed invention in figure 1, a catheter body (102) fabricated from a material selected from the group consisting of polymers and metals (col. 7, lines 14-20 and also recited in claims 5 and 27) and an inflatable balloon (120) consists of at least one metal alloy (col. 7, lines 29-33); wherein the balloon (120) capable of having a wall thickness between about 3um and 10um and including the steps of vacuum depositing of the at least one metal onto the generally cylindrical mandrel to form the inflatable balloon and removing the mandrel from the inflatable balloon.

Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments filed 07/20/2009 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1, 27, and 28 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
